PORTERVILLE — What started as a weiner roast 25 years ago and since has grown into one of the major aviation events on the West Coast will be celebrated June 7-8-9 at Porterville Municipal airport as the Silver anniversary of the Annual Porterville Moonlite Fly-In.

The sponsoring Porterville Area Pilots' association (PAPA) has lined up what will probably be one of the best programs ever to be held at the Fly-In during its 25 year history.

Headlining the 1 p.m. programs on Saturday and Sunday, June 8 and 9, will be the U.S. Army's Silver Eagles, a precision helicopter demonstration team from Fort Rucker, Alabama. The crack, seven-man team uses six jet 'copters in thrill-a-minute formation flying, and one, dressed as a clown, operates a giant yo-yo and does other comic maneuvers during the half-hour presentation.

Also featured on Saturday will be the world famous U.S. Army sky-diving team, the Golden Knights. The Army parachutists will drop in on the Fly-In from 13,000 feet, performing a variety of BOZO THE CLOWN, a red-nosed, floppy-eared helicopter, will operate a giant yo-yo in the sky as part of the U.S. Army's Silver Eagle precision helicopter demonstration team that will perform on June 8 and 9 at the Porterville Municipal airport as a highlight of the Porterville Area Pilots' association Silver Anniversary Fly-In. The helicopter team is shown also in its "Star Burst" maneuver, and, at lower right, two members of the Army's Golden Knights parachute team, who will drop in each day from an elevation of 13,000 feet.

Graduation

PORTERVILLE — Ready or not - it's graduation time again, with rural-area schools scheduling ceremonies during the next week and with four graduations in Porterville.

Next Wednesday, June 5, Bartlett Junior high will hold its graduation in the Porterville Memorial auditorium, and Pioneer Junior high in Jamison stadium.

The following night, June 6, Monache High seniors will graduate in ceremonies on the campus; Porterville High seniors will graduate in Jamison stadium.

Tomorrow night, May 31, Adult School graduation will be held on the Monache campus.

NEW MELONES DAM - AN EAST SIDE UNIT SOME DAY?

NEW MELONES dam on the Stanislaus river, originally conceived as a key unit in the East Side project that would bring additional water to the east side of the San Joaquin valley, is under construction, but as an Army Engineer flood control project with the Bureau of Reclamation handling irrigation benefits. If the East Side project ever gets federal fund approval, the dam and reservoir could still be a key unit. The reservoir was originally engineered for 2,400,000 acre feet of storage. ## IF NAMES MAKE NEWS - JUNE 4 IS HEADLINE DAY

By Bill Rodgers

If names make news, June 4 will be a headline election day, since nearly 100 candidates are seeking state or national partisan offices; seven more are running for a non-partisan state office; and 14 are seeking non-partisan office in Tulare county.

With Governor Ronald Reagan not running for reelection, 18 Democrats and six Republicans are looking for his job. Top Democrat contenders appear to be Edmond G. Brown Jr., Bob Moretti and Joseph L. Alioto; Republican race seems to be between Ed Reinecke and Houston I. Flounoy.

While 13 candidates are seeking eight non-partisan county administrative offices, six of these offices are "cut and dried" since there is no opposition: Max Cochran, county superintendent of schools; Carroll E. Cannon, assessor; Thomas C. Logan, auditor; Jay C. Bayless, clerk; C. Ralph Howard, recorder; and Jack L. Depew, treasurer-tax collector.

Race for sheriff-coroner shapes up as virtually "no contest" for Incumbent Bob Wiley, although Cyrenus B. Icely is opposing Wiley.

Five candidates, however, are after the district attorney-public administrator job that FAR BE it from us to tell anyone how to vote - but we do have some ideas about the nine propositions on the June 4 ballot - for instance Prop. No. 1, the Recreation Land Bonds act, on which we will vote "No" since, except in certain local situations, public ownership of nearly 50 percent of the land in California should be about enough. Farm Bureau says vote "No" on this one; the Porterville chamber of commerce says vote "Yes."

PROP. NO. 2 - Clean Water Bonds act has to be "Yes" all the way, with Farm Bureau and the chamber agreeing.

PROP. NO. 3 - Veterans' Bond act to put $350,000,000 into the depleted California Veterans Loan program. This program has been operating

VOTE JUNE 4

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. in the Tuesday, June 4 primary election; all registered voters should have received sample ballots and notification of their polling place.

U.S. SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE TO VISIT AREA WITH BOB MATHIAS

DURING A recent meeting at the Department of Agriculture with Secretary Earl Butz (right), Congressman Bob Mathias (left) and the Secretary discussed a number of agricultural matters of concern to the San Joaquin valley as well as some of the important legislation being considered by the House Agriculture committee. Secretary Butz will be Mathias' guest tomorrow, May 31, for a one day visit to Kings and Tulare counties. In addition to touring the farm areas and talking with farmers, the secretary's itinerary includes a 7:30 breakfast in Hanford at the Hanford Fraternal hall, a 10:30 a.m. informal coffee hour with dairymen at M. Curti & Sons Dairy in Waukena, and a speech at a noon luncheon to be held in Dinuba at the Dinuba Memorial building. Congressman Mathias, who is the 3rd ranking minority member on the Agriculture committee, said he was "pleased" Secretary Butz has accepted his invitation to visit the "nation's number 1 agriculture producing congressional district."

since shortly after World War I without costing the taxpayers. "Yes" is the answer, a vote on which Farm Bureau and the chamber agree.

PROP. NO. 4 - Reassessment of property when property is destroyed or receives major damage, short of a declared state of emergency. We'll fire a "Yes" at this one, agreeing with the chamber even though Farm Bureau says "No."

PROP. NO. 5 is designed to allow counties or specific areas to spend highway tax money for rapid transit. The need for rapid transit in metropolitan areas appears to be real, but this need does not diminish need for more highways. "No" is the answer, with which Farm Bureau and the chamber agree.

PROP. NO. 6 - Public legislative proceedings. It's "Yes" all the way. Farm Bureau and the chamber agree.

PROP. NO. 7 - State civil service exemptions for the chief administrator and five deputies in the California Postsecondary Education commission. We'll go along with a "Yes" vote, even though Farm Bureau says "No." The chamber also says "Yes."

PROP. NO. 8 - Sacramento County-Cities consolidation. There's a couple of sleepers in this one. Better give it a "No" vote and let them come back with legislation that covers the state, not just Sacramento. Farm Bureau also says "No," the chamber says "Yes."

PROP. NO. 9 - Political Reform Initiative. Who can quarrel with logical political reform? We certainly can't. But this proposition is too far-reaching, with one of its most serious drawbacks being that its provisions would tend to drive "solid citizens" away from seeking grassroots public office. Furthermore we have no confidence in this complicated proposition's major backers. We'll go with a "No" vote, along with Farm Bureau and the chamber.

AS FOR the local ballot issue - a 15-cent, two-year tax to construct a swimming pool in the Monache and Porterville campuses - well 400,000 bucks is a lot of money, but we'll go along, not enthusiastically, but still with a "Yes" punch.

AND HOW do we see "local" candidates? Our punch goes to ReDoy Kiesz for district attorney; to Bob Wiley for sheriff; and to Ray Muller for Supervisor.

FOR CONGRESS, Bob Mathias gets our vote; for governor, Houston Flournoy; for U.S. Senator, Earl W. Brian, although we wouldn't consider it a catastrophe if H.L. Richardson got the Republican nod.

NOW, ONE final word, directed to all and sundry. Get out your sample ballot, take a look at it; study the California Voters pamphlet that came with it, then vote your own mind - not my mind, or the Farm Bureau's mind nor the chamber of commerce mind - vote your own mind June 4.

The poem, titled "My Son Olu," was submitted in the competition at the suggestion of Mrs. Emily McCain, who had received the work in her English 1B class.

Mrs. Bayoh, who was a member of last week's graduating class, plans to enter the school of nursing at the University of Florida in Gainesville in the fall. Entertainment by senior citizens will be provided throughout the day; a luncheon will be served.

Highlighting the day's activities will be recognition of outstanding senior citizens from the four counties. A representative from the State Office on Aging will present the Outstanding Senior Citizen awards. In addition, couples who have been married 50 years or longer will be given special recognition.

Tri-County Senior Citizen Day is sponsored this year by Tulare county and Kings View foundation, in cooperation with Fresno and Kings counties. It is being hosted by the City of Tulare Parks and Recreation Department.

OUR TOWN

BY RUTH LOYD

It was really hot over the Memorial Weekend. After supper, we drove up to Success Lake to see how the city people were roughing it. It's a far cry from what we called roughing it. I've never seen such equipment. Huge motor homes with their air conditioners going like mad. High powered speed boats on fancy trailers, beautiful colored tents with every kind of convenience. Motorcycles, bicycles, tricycles and play pens, and hundreds of young people. By the time we got there, mother was just cleaning up the dishes by the light of a Coleman lantern on a picnic table. Children were getting ready for bed, and the old folks were sitting in nice lawn chairs. The favorite camping spots seemed to be on the water's edge, but the people up near the highway were just as happy in the dust and the heat. Monday, I kept thinking of the families packing up to go home; the long hot trip with sunburned cranky children, and hot parents; the next day when mother got children off to school, and father off to work, and she was left with the washing, and with cleaning out the motor home, finding socks and towels and lost fishing equipment. Back to the big city rat race, after their happy time in OUR COUNTRY.

Our last pack trip didn't have fancy trappings. We didn't bother with a tent, we slept on the ground, cooked over a camp fire, and washed the dishes in the river. This was after OWEN RUTHERFORD had hoisted me on a huge horse, and made his choice remarks of pity for the horse. The remarks can't be repeated in a family newspaper. He's one of a kind. ED CARTER went along with us, to see that we arrived in one piece. I hadn't quite gotten unglued from the horse, before ED and our son rushed down to the river to catch our supper. On the way to the river, ED killed a rattlesnake, and in his slow quiet way he told our son, "Be sure you put your foot on the snake's head before you pinch off the rattles." About that time, I was trying to keep the hair from standing up on top of my head. I'm not too fond of rattlesnakes, but some nut had told me that snakes never come out at night. So when the sun went down, I quit worrying. The little snakes had all gone to bed, like good little snakes should. It wasn't until I got home that I found out this little bit of lore wasn't true. I had wondered why we had to roll up our sleeping bags every morning. Now I know. Father just didn't want us to crawl into our bags and put our trusting feet down to the bottom and get a surprise. Some surprise. I would be screaming yet.

I was once on the committee to choose The Man and Woman of the Year. I was so impressed with the letters telling about wonderful people in OUR TOWN who were deserving of the award. We could only choose two, and I wondered about the other letters. If you know of someone whom you would like to give recognition, I wish you would tell me, and in a small way we can say thank you.

Happiness is ED CARTER, for making our pack trips so wonderful.

Building Trades Class To Sell House

PORTERVILLE — A 1600-square-foot home, constructed by building trades classes at Porterville college, will be sold to the highest bidder on Monday, June 3.

A minimum bid price of $12,900 has been established, and sealed bids will be accepted up to the time bidding starts at 8 p.m. in the president's office in the administration building on the college campus at 900 South Main street.

Written bids must be accompanied by a 10% bidder's bond. After written bids have been opened, oral bids will be taken, with the first such bid to be at least 5% higher than the highest written bid. Terms of sale call for the house to be moved off the college property within 30 days after purchase.

An open house for inspection of the structure will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 2, in the industrial arts area of the campus.

Plans for the house are available for inspection in the college office. This year's house contains a kitchen, family room, living room, three bedrooms, and two baths, as well as carpets, and ducts for an air conditioning system.

IF NAMES

Incumbent Bob Bereman is vacating: I. Singh Aulakh, Fred Hendrix, Joe Haley, Jay W. Powell and ReDoy L. Kiesz. One of these candidates would have to poll a majority of all votes cast to win in the primary; otherwise, the two high candidates will be in a November run-off.

Fifth-District Supervisor Ray Muller is seeking reelection without ballot opposition.

In the 32nd district State Assembly race, Incumbent Republican Gordon Duffy is without opposition, as is Democrat William J. Kennedy and American Independent Party Candidate Glenn H. Rider. This means that all three will be on the November general election ballot.

State Senator Howard Way is not running this year.

In the new 17th Congressional district, Incumbent Republican Bob Mathias has opposition on his party ticket from Richard L. Ettner, and three Democrats seek their party nomination: John Krebs, Richard T. Morgan, and Vincent J. Lavery. Indications are that it will be Mathias and Krebs on the November ballot.

Democrat Alan Cranston has opposition for United States Senator on his own party ballot from Frank Kacsinta and Howard L. Gifford. Republicans have five candidates seeking their party nomination for U.S. Senator: H.L. Richardson and Earl W. Brian, probably the top runners; James E. Johnson, Thomas A. Malatesta, and William Reinholz. Jack McCoy and Gayle M. Justice are unopposed for their party nominations - American Independent and Peace and Freedom.

Running unopposed on the Republican ballot for attorney general is Incumbent Evette J. Younger; Democrat hopefuls for this post are William A. Norris and Vincent Bugliosi.

With California's Lieutenant Governor Ed Reinecke making a bid for governor, two Republicans are seeking to replace him: John G. Veneman and John L. Harmer, both strong candidates; eight Democrats are after their party's nod for the nomination: Elizabeth Smith Weingand, Robert W. Battin, Mervyn M. Dymally, Fidel Gonzalez Jr., Cy King, A. John Merlo, Howard Miller, and Lawrence E. Walsh.

Seeking their party nomination for secretary of state are Democrats March K. Fong, Robert S. Jordan, Walter Karabian, Cathy O'Neill, Herman Sillas, and Bruce Edward Brant; and Republicans Wendell Handy, Michael B. Montgomery, James L. Shinn, Brian R. Van Camp, and Willard C. Fonda.

After the state controller's job are Republicans James L. Flournoy, Marian W. LaFollette, and William T. Bagley; and Democrats Ronald Brooks Cameron, Kenneth Cory, Robert H. Mendelsohn, David T.F. Rees, and Bert A. Betts.

Running for their party nomination for state treasurer are: Democrats Jesse M. Unruh, Gray Davis, Charles C. Haskins, and Alan Short; and Republicans Henry Quigley, H. Stanley Jones, R. Cyril Kay and John T. Kehoe.

For 2nd district member of the state board of equalization, Incumbent Democrat John W. Lynch has opposition from six Democrats; two Republicans are seeking their party nomination for the post.

For the non-partisan post of superintendent of public instruction, six candidates have filed against Incumbent Wilson Riles.

Only local ballot proposition involves levying of a 15-cent tax for two years in the Porterville Union High School district to cover cost of construction of swimming pools on the Porterville high and Monache high campuses. Regardless of confused ballot wording - a simple yes or no vote means that a voter favors or opposes the tax and construction.

Nine state propositions are also on the ballot.

Lettuce cutting is in full swing in the Salinas valley.

Milk Prices Low In Comparison To Other Areas

BERKELEY — In spite of recent milk price increases, California consumers are still paying considerably less than most other U.S. consumers.

A recent report published by the U.S. Bureau of Labor shows that in January, seven major cities paid more than 80 cents per half-gallon for milk, while the national average outside of California was 77 cents.

Residents in New York, Baltimore, Atlanta, Dallas, Honolulu, Houston and Kansas City were paying in excess of 80 cents. In addition, prices in Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, Buffalo and Cincinnati already exceeded the 77 cent average when the study was conducted. Only consumers in Minneapolis paid less than California residents. Despite a five-cent increase effective last April 1st, California consumers still pay one of the lowest rates in the nation.

"No one likes higher prices, least of all dairymen whose production costs have nearly doubled in the past year," said Allan Grant, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, California's largest farm organization. "Some consumer spokesmen and legislators are condemning the present pricing mechanism without consideration of all the facts," said Grant.

The current farm value of what consumers pay for milk amounts to approximately 60 percent of the consumer purchase price. Grant credits higher productivity per animal, and greater unit efficiency, for the lower California consumer price as established under present state laws.

Grant warned that sharp increase in operating costs has resulted in the loss of many dairy farms. "Any effort to restrict farm prices could cause further reduction in dairy farm numbers and result in still higher prices for consumers," he said.

It's Happening In SPRINGVILLE

By Carolyn J. Giddings

Petitions regarding the Jackass Mail Run are available in Springville now and will be until May 31st. They can be found at most local businesses.

Springville Post Office is having air-conditioning installed. A welcome addition!

Springville is sorry to see the Duke family leaving - Jere, and his wife, Jeri and daughter Christie, will be moving to Fremont about June 1st. They have managed the trailer park for quite awhile and Jere has been an active member of the Springville Volunteer Fire Department.

Some time ago the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority of Springville began an investigation toward the possibility of Springville having its own ambulance. The project really started to hum when Air West, a subsidiary of Hughes Aircraft, donated an ambulance that had been used for plant executives. This vehicle made its first public appearance in the Rodeo Parade and was admired by everyone. The ambulance, while all new looking and shiny white, is unfurnished. The Beta Sigma Phi Sorority has been involved in many money-making projects to purchase the necessary equipment, such as stretchers, oxygen apparatus, etc. When this project really gets to rolling the great credit for its success will be the untiring dedicated work of this fine sorority. Drawing up the corporation papers for the community ambulance is slowing the project at the moment. Newly elected officers for the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority are: Elaine Egenes - re-elected President; Carole Trupe - Vice-President; Jane Raventos - Secretary; and Mary Henley - Treasurer. Hazel Perkins is the new pledge.

I received a surprise phone call from John Garay on Memorial Day - John and his wife, Julia, reside in Torrance, where he is a Lieutenant with the California Highway Patrol. John and Julia's three children are all married now and they have two grandchildren.

"PILLOW TALK," a 1950's comedy hit, will be presented May 31 and June 1 in the round by the Monache High School Drama department on the Monache campus; curtain time is 8 p.m.; tickets will be available at the door. Appearing in the comedy, that originally starred Rock Hudson and Doris Day, are: Richard Lindroos and Joni Mitchell, in above photo; Tim Sherril, Barbara Baugh, Marty Yanes, Carol Hawthorne, Larry Miller, Tammy Wood, Billy Rice, Jeanine Alexander, Carol Rutherford, Cathy Barbarick, Tim Dolan, Donna Spallina, Lupe Ontiveros, Pam Rockholt, Chris Crow, Carol Fox, and Judi Wren. The play is directed by Robert Briscoe.

An extremely valuable little dog has been lost by the Alkire family who live at the Borror's Sequoia Stock Farm. The animal was lost sometime Friday P.M. between Springville and the Borror ranch. He is an 8 week old Kelpie and resembles a miniature fox. He has red short hair and erect ears. A reward is being offered for his return. Call 539-2351.
